

SOCIETY.

Aid Society Meets.
The semi-monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church was held last evening at the home of Mrs. L. L. Herbert on Sixth street, West Side. There was a large attendance. At the conclusion of a business meeting a social hour was held and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held Friday evening, July 5, at the home of Mrs. Wade Marletta in Snyder street.

F. O. M. Picnic.

The F. O. M. Society of the Methodist Protestant church is holding a picnic this afternoon at Fairview Park.

Engagement Announced.

An engagement has been made of the engagement of Miss Nellie Elizabeth Armstrong, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Joseph T. Armstrong of McKeesport, and J. E. Herberman, son of the late George Herberman, a member of the oldest and most prominent families of Brownsville.

State Grand Officers Here.

State Grand Templar Mrs. Elizabeth J. Pentin of Pittsburgh, and District Grand Templars Mrs. Mary Lytle and Mrs. E. Myers of Scottsdale, were guests of Anna Council Temple, No. 110, I. O. E. S. at the regular meeting held last evening. After the regular business meeting the members of the order and their guests went to Bishop's restaurant for dinner supper. Mrs. Pentin is the guest of Mrs. E. Myers of Scottsdale.

Class Day Exercises.

Invitations have been received here for the Class Day exercises of South Western State Normal, California, Park, to be held Tuesday afternoon, June 25, and the commencement exercises to be held Wednesday morning, June 26, at 9:30 o'clock in the chapel. Miss Katherine O'Connor is a member of the class.

Howard Adams Give Party.

A party was given last evening by Howard Adams at his home on Highland avenue. Many of his friends were present, and games were played until 10:30, when luncheon was served.

Afternoon at Bridge.

In honor of her house guests, Misses Florence and Edith Horer of Boyertown, Mrs. J. Kirk Renner was hostess at a well appointed bridge party yesterday afternoon at her home in West Fayette street. Four tables were brought into play. The prizes were captured by Miss Margaret Shaeffer and Miss Helen Murphy. Luncheon followed the games. The out of town guests were Miss Blanche Rover of Philadelphia, Miss Margaret Sheaffey of Wayne, Pa., and Miss Nelly Harrison of Pawtucket, R. I.

Missionary Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Protestant church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Worth Kilpatrick on East Main street. There was a large attendance. During the business session several letters from the denominational Secretary, regarding work which may be taken up in addition to the regular work, were read. Refreshments were served.

Junior League Meets.

The Junior League of the Methodist Episcopal church held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the church.

Orchestra Class Meets.

The Unwired Class of the Methodist Sunday school held its regular monthly business and social meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Effie Nevel on Calhoun avenue.

The report of the annual Sunday school convention was postponed until later. Money received for a quilt which is being made by the members of the class, was turned in. Refreshments were served.

NEVER SUCH A REMEDY FOR PILES.

It will only cost any sufferer 25 cents to prove that bleeding, blistering or pricking piles, no matter how chronic or how painful can quickly be ended forever.

Oraham & Company, Connellsville, and S. A. Lowe & Company, Scottsdale, keep them in quartet, say: "Want a jar of San Cura ointment, and if you aren't satisfied—your money back."

Yes, and more, use San Cura Ointment, for old sureg that people say will never heal, for fever sores, for itching skin, eczema, lotion, salpicon, chapped hands, face or lips, for ulcers, carbuncles, boils, sore nipples and broken breasts.

It draws out all poison; that's the secret of the wonderful success of San Cura Ointment. That's why it is an quickly heals scalds, burns, cuts and bruises without scarring. It's best to use San Cura Soap at all times. It banishes pimples, blackheads and kills the germs of disease. 25 cents. Thompson Medico Co., Titusville, Pa.

Libel Trial in Denver.

DENVER, Colo., June 22.—The trial of Fred G. Bonita and H. E. Tammen, charged with criminal libel, is docketed to begin in court here Monday and from present indications will be one of the most sensational trials of the kind ever held in the West. The charges were brought by William G. Evans and were the outgrowth of the recent municipal campaign in this city. The Denver Post, of which Messrs. Bonita and Tammen are the proprietors, announced editorially that the defendants will call as witnesses practically all of the prominent men of Denver, including bankers, editors, politicians, journalists, hotel-keepers, bribe-givers and takers."

John Corrigan Dead.

John J. Corrigan, aged 59 years, six months, and 18 days, died yesterday at his home at No. 517 Cummings avenue. Deceased was a son, J. J., and Katherine Corrigan, and was born in Connellsville. Funeral from his mother's residence on Cummings avenue Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Requiem high mass will be celebrated at 3 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception church. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

FUNERAL IS HELD ON HER FIRST WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mrs. Vivian Shaw Jones Married Just Year Ago Today—Died In Chicago Yesterday.

On the first anniversary of her wedding day, the funeral of Mrs. Vivian Shaw Jones will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of her father, Isaac Shaw on Crawford avenue. Since the arrival of the body at the Shaw home many friends of the deceased have called at the home to view the remains and extend their sympathy to the bereaved family. The formal tributes are unusually large and handsome, including a number of beautiful designs. Rev. J. P. Allison pastor of the Christian church, and Rev. R. C. Wolf, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church will officiate. Appropriate music will be rendered by the choir of the Christian church, directed by Miss Gertrude Reed of Scottsdale, and Robert Warner. A short time before she died Mrs. Jones requested that her favorite hymn "Trust and obey for there is no other way" be sung at her funeral. Her wish will be carried out.

The pallbearers are William F. Brooks, Ralph Miller, Clarence Cook, Ray Griswold, Ray Smith and Charles Crowley. Little hopes are entertained for Mr. Jones' recovery. A telegram received yesterday stated that there was no change in his condition.

DOWNS BUYS.

Takes Father's Half Interest in the Shoe Business.

C. W. Downs has bought out the half interest of his father, J. A. Downs, in the shoe business of Downs & Company and after July 1 the firm will be known as Downs Shoe Store. C. W. Downs has been in the shoe business in Connellsville for 12 years and five and a half years ago he and his father bought out the business of L. C. Smutz on North Pittsburg street, their present location.

There will be no change in the working force. J. A. Downs alone disposing of his business will devote more time to his farm in Dunbar township, which he recently purchased.

ARRESTS THREE.

Officer Ritenour Says They Threw Stones at Children.

Officer Samuel Ritenour of South Connellsville arrested three Italians last night at the brick store near Saxon Park, on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. They were throwing stones at some small children, who were nearby, it was alleged.

Two of them left a forfeit and did not appear this morning. The other was given a hearing and was committed to jail for 24 hours.

In Memory of Father Durocher.

QUEBEC, June 22.—The members of the St. Jean Baptiste Society of St. Sulpice have decided to postpone their celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the society, which falls tomorrow. The chief feature of the commemoration will be the unveiling of a statue of Rev. Father Durocher, who was the founder of the St. Sauveur branch of the famous order. The statue is of bronze, standing on a granite pedestal, and has been erected on Durocher Square, where the unveiling exercises will take place.

Foreword to Historic Elm.

WINTHROP, Mass., June 22.—Exercises were held here today under the old "Gibson Elm," preliminary to the cutting down of the historic tree next week. The exercises were conducted under the auspices of the Winthrop Historical Society, and were participated in by members of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, of which Major Edward Gibson, from whom the ancient tree derived its name, was captain in the early part of the seventeenth century.

Mrs. Grace May Be Tried Soon.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 22.—It is reported that the prosecuting attorney may succeed in having the case of Mrs. Daisy E. Grace brought up for trial early next week, though it is likely the attorneys for the accused woman will fight to have the trial go over until fall. Mrs. Grace charged with attempting to murder her husband, Eugene N. Grace, who was found shot desperately wounded on March 5 last in the Grace home in the fashionable section of Atlanta.

New Trucks at Sand Patch.

The B. & O. railroad has awarded the contract to Fred Schaeffer for grading the roadsides for two west-bound set-off trucks at Sand Patch. The work will probably take most of the summer and a subcontract for the general improvement being made by the B. & O. railroad in the vicinity of Sand Patch.

Chubponen at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., June 22.—One thousand delegates to the eleventh biennial convention of the National Federation of Woman's Clubs are already in San Francisco, and others are arriving on every train. Fully 10,000 visitors are expected here before the convention begins its proceedings Tuesday.

Back to the Farm.

Bart J. Thomas, teller at the Second National Bank, is taking his vacation. He and Mrs. Thomas and the little Thomases have gone to Marlinton for a visit.

No Truck Yet.

The auto fire truck has not arrived yet. The West Side public building has been prepared for its reception. The truck has been shipped and is expected at any time.

P. Worthington.

Crane tuner and repairer. Parties wishing to have their planes attended to can leave orders at P. B. Weller's Piano Store, Connellsville.

Calves Arrested.

Four calves were arrested this morning by Officer Baxter at the Boulevard. The calves belong to William Coughran.

Patronize those who advertise.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Vivian Shaw Jones Married Just Year Ago Today—Died In Chicago Yesterday.

Mrs. Edward Mosso, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Renner of Winter avenue.

Mrs. G. R. Pignani returned yesterday afternoon from a visit with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Adeline Rowan of East Cedar avenue, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Rowan of Mt. Union.

One of the hats at half price, including early dress and tailored models. Also a liberal reduction on mid-summer hats. McFarlands.

Miss Minnie Seine of East Cedar avenue, left last night for her home at Marlinton to spend several weeks with her mother, Mrs. Seine.

Mrs. Gwen Shumaker and Miss Annie Hall have returned to Vanderbilb, after spending a week with friends at Mill Run.

Moving pictures of the Connellsville schools at the Solson Theatre all next week, commencing Monday afternoon. Admission 5 cents.

Mrs. Ada Mae Hannam returned home this morning from a visit with friends at Carnegie, Pa.

Mrs. W. B. Knolle of Pittsburgh is visiting her sister, Mrs. Joseph Dixon of East Main street.

Every Merit preparation is right we will make it right. We know what it contains and we are personally interested in its manufacture.

Your money back if you want it.

Harkness' Pharmacy, 129 South Pittsburg street.

Use Muri's Vacuum Cleaner.

Mr. D. W. Darby and two children have gone to California, Pa., for a week's visit with relatives.

Dr. W. S. Kimmel of Republic, was in town this morning on his return from Somerset.

If you wish to save money or wish a loan on the best and simplest plan known, become a member of the Peoples Building & Loan Association, the largest, oldest and strongest in Fayette county. See Secretary Alex H. Head.

Mrs. H. C. Hershey and small son, Vance, arrived here yesterday from Harrisburg, for a visit with the former's mother, Mrs. A. M. Vance.

Don't be a ready-made man. Get a life made to fit your individuality for $14 up. Duke Cohen, Taylor.

Miss Elsie King Vogel was in town yesterday for a short time on her way to her home at Somerton. Miss Vogel is teacher of a girls' school near St. Louis. She formerly taught in the Chinese mission school.

Miss June Smith of Uniontown, returned home this morning, after a visit with friends here.

One lot of hats at half price, including early dress and tailored models. Also a liberal reduction on mid-summer hats. McFarlands.

Mrs. B. S. Swiftzweiler of South Prospect street, left yesterday for a several days' visit in Washington, D. C.

Moving pictures of the Connellsville schools at the Solson Theatre all next week, commencing Monday afternoon. Admission 5 cents.

Merit Tonic Bistive, the great rejuvenator and builder, tones up the system, improves the appetite, aids digestion, cleanses the system of impurities. Just what you need when all run down. Barkley's Pharmacy, 129, South Pittsburg street.

Mr. Frank Bradford and Miss Clara Bradford of South Pittsburg street and guest, Mrs. Louise Lerch of Chicago, are spending several days in Washington, D. C.

West Penn Claim Agent T. B. Donnelly on Thursday attended the wedding of his nephew, Paul Donovan of Woodstock, Ill., and Miss Lillian Keeling of Harvard, Ill. The wedding was solemnized at Harvard. Mr. Donovan is a son of Mayor J. D. Donovan of Woodstock.

Donald Britt is here from Chicago for a visit with friends.

Mrs. James Helms and children of South Connellsville, are visiting in Ashtabula, O.

DON'T SUFFER FROM ECZEMA.

A new treatment has recently been discovered by a prominent physician which is guaranteed to cure all skin diseases or blenniathes. This new treatment is called Holoko and is not only geodescent and antiseptic, but contains no lead, mercury or anything that will injure the most delicate skin.

Wonderful and gratifying results follow its use and it is guaranteed to quickly relieve and cure the most obstinate and chronic cases of eczema, pimples, ulcers, itch, piles, etc.

Get a jar today and if not satisfactory when used as directed we will refund your money if you will bring back empty jar. Liberal jar 25c, larger sizes 50c and $1.00.

A. A. Clarke, local agent.

Explained by Anty Drudge.

Little Miss Rompabout—"Just look, mamma, I tore my frock."

Mother—"Good gracious, and that frock just now! Only washed twice!"

Anty Drudge—"Just those two washings made the tear possible. You boiled the frock, as you do all your clothes, and that softened and weakened its fiber. If you had used Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water, the fabric would not be half rotten and ready to give away the first time it caught in anything."

White clothes are made of vegetable fibres, cotton or flax. Boiling affects them the same way it does other vegetable matter, as potatoes or cabbage. It softens them and weakens the fibre. Boiling will soften even hard wood.

By this you can easily see how your clothes will wear out quicker and tear more easily if you boil and hard-rub them.

Wool, which is an animal fibre, is softened just as the fibre of meat in boiling. Fels-Naptha will cleanse your clothes in cold or lukewarm water without any boiling or hard rubbing, and there isn't a single thing in it that will harm the goods.

Your clothes will wear twice as long,

and they'll be whiter and cleaner all the time.

Try a cake of Fels-Naptha and see.

But use it the Fels-Naptha way, according to the simple directions on the red and green wrapper.

They'll tell you how to wash all kinds of clothes with Fels-Naptha;

wash dishes, clean floors and do man-

other things with it.

Licensed to Wed.

William L. Knoce and Miss Leona Newlinham, both of Scottsdale, were granted a marriage license in Greenbush yesterday.

Calves Arrested.

The Daily Courier.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice, Connellsville.

THE COURIER COMPANY.
Publishers.

H. E. ENYDER,
President and Managing Editor.
J. H. S. STIMMELL,
Secretary and Treasurer.

TELEPHONE KING.
CITY EDITORS AND REPORTERS,
Bell 12, Two Rings, Tri-State, 55, Two Rings.

BUSINESS OFFICE, JOB AND CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT., Bell 12,
One Ring, Tri-State, 55, One Ring.
H. P. SNYDER, Editor and Manager.

SUBSCRIPTION.
DAILY, $1 per year, 10¢ per copy.
WEEKLY, $1 per year, 10¢ per copy.
PAY NO MONEY TO CARRIERS, but only to collector with proper credentials.
All subscriptions and remittances in the delivery of The Courier to homes by the carriers in Connellsville or our agents in other towns should be reported to this office at once.

ADVERTISING.
THE DAILY COURIER is the only daily newspaper in the Connellsville coca region which has the honesty and courage to print a daily report under oath of the exact number of copies it prints for distribution. Other papers furnish figures. Advertising rates on application.

THE WEEKLY COURIER is the revered organ of the Connellsville coca trade. It has special value as an industrial journal and an advertising medium for such interests.

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 22, 1912

THIRD PARTY: THIRD TERM.

The fourth day of the Chicago Convention closed with the final disposition of most of the contested out-cases and the prospect that all will be concluded this morning and a nomination reached tonight.

It is conceded that President Taft will be renominated. The dark horses who pranced gallantly for a couple of days have been stabled; the present necessity for them having departed. Time will tell whether they were led out of the ring too soon. It depends wholly upon the staying qualities of the Roosevelt movement. The Colonel and his lieutenants, including False Alarm Ellin, were so quiet yesterday that they must have been able to hear themselves think.
Even Richard Rough-house Quay rawraved with a notable falling off in ferocity.

The subsidence of the Roosevelt noise was due to the fact that too many of the Roosevelt delegates had positively refused to go along the Hoover-Johnson bolting program.
Together with the Roosevelt delegates whose claims had been dismissed by the National Committee and the National Convention, it was proposed to set up a rump convention to put forth the claim that it was the rightful and lawful Republican National Convention and its nominee,
Theodore Roosevelt, was the only real Republican candidate for President.
All others being impostors and pretenders.
Those who declined to bolt stated that they were Republicans; that they proposed to remain regular and fight out their battles within the party, and that, under no circumstances, would they sacrifice the party to any man's ambition.

This meant that the bolt would not carry with it a sufficient number of delegates to make a majority of the convention and who would have to be abandoned. It was then announced that the Roosevelt delegates would sit in the convention and vote only until the contests were disposed of, when if the "stolen roll" prevailed they would cease taking any further part in the convention, though they will for the most part remain as spectators.
This decision was made to save the Roosevelt face. It will require nothing from the Roosevelt delegates which they may not give without risking their regularity.

It is apparent that the Roosevelt wave of popularity reached its summit
on the first few days after its arrival
at Chicago and that it is now silently subsiding. Many Roosevelt delegates have been effectively cured of their infatuation. It is freely admitted in the ranks of his supporters that Roosevelt is dead, not only at Chicago, but anywhere else who may elect to present it now. They complain of his dictatorial manner and his frequent shifts of position. One delegate explained it thus: "First we are told that we will fight it out on the floor
of the convention, then we are told
we will withdraw; now we are advised that there will be a third party. As Republicans, how can we do these things?" Save only the first, they cannot do these things at all in decency
and honor.

It is evident that the Roosevelt
wave of popularity reached its summit
on the first few days after its arrival
at Chicago and that it is now silently
subsiding. Many Roosevelt delegates
have been effectively cured of their infatuation. It is freely admitted in the ranks of his supporters that Roosevelt
is dead, not only at Chicago, but anywhere else who may elect
to present it now. They complain of
his dictatorial manner and his frequent shifts of position. One delegate explained it thus: "First we are told
that we will fight it out on the floor
of the convention, then we are told
we will withdraw; now we are advised
that there will be a third party. As Republicans, how can we do these things?" Save only the first, they cannot do these things at all in decency
and honor.

Roosevelt's hopes that a political romance recently pointed by a magazine will become an actual fact. It depicted the national campaign of 1912 as a struggle between the Progressives and the Conservatives. It concluded with the abandonment of old party lines and the nomination of Roosevelt and Wilson as the Progressive ticket and Taft and Harmon as the Conservative ticket.

The campaign was very spirited with Bryan speaking side by side with Roosevelt. The author very carefully refrained from recording the result of the election.

The third party movement is evidently based on the hope of attracting a considerable portion of the Republicans and Democrats, and it is now announced that the Populist support is also expected. The Socialists have probably not been heard from. The history of third party movements in this country is not however, encouraging to the Roosevelt program. If this really is his program. Some of the worst beaten men in politics have led third party movements; and they were among the greatest men the country ever produced, too.

The Republic National Convention has proceeded according to established rules and precedents. A fair hearing has been given in the contests and the decision in no case has been flagrantly unjust though in some seventy cases there has been room for honest differences of opinion. It is not pretended that the members of the National Committee and the National Convention have been unprejudiced in their decisions, nor is that prejudice confined to the Taft men; but this much can be said, namely, that no delegate's seat has been wilfully and deliberately stolen. The Taft majorities in committees and conventions resolved all doubts in favor of their own contestants, just as the Roosevelt minority would have done had it been a majority. More than that may justify protest in politics, but less than that we expect, and the Roosevelt row about it was either stimulated for the purpose of eliciting popular sympathy or it was the expression of hopeless political ignorance.

Colonel Roosevelt made a whirlwind campaign and an aggressive fight, but thinking people hastened to make him President. He has not always kept faith with the public. He pledged himself against a Third Term, and forgot it; he swore fealty to numerous friends, and forgot them; he consented to become a Receptive Candidate and then rushed madly into a furious campaign to capture with greedy grasp what he had just said he would only take as a gracious gift.

An American citizen who would run for a Third Term would not hesitate to employ any means to get it, not excepting Third Party.

J. Pluvius is making up for the long dry spell, but the Great Old Summer
Time still languishes in the cold North Wind's breath.

Bad language don't make a good case.

Many of those who talk gibberish about Special Privilege do not know what it means. Some people are for anything new and strange in the hope of attracting public attention by wearing it.

Roosevelt is becoming too Progressive for still those of his supporters who are still Republicans.

Boss Ellin is somewhat embarrassed by the turn of affairs at Chicago. He would like to continue to bask in the reflected light of Colonel Roosevelt's presence, but he hates heartily to abandon the driver's seat on the Pennsylvania Republican Machine.

It is hard to distinguish the difference in point of size and general appearance between some of the teachers and pupils of the public schools.

Colonel Roosevelt releases his delegates, but adds, "Follow me!" This is a release with a string to it.

T. R. to his delegates: "Do as you like, but bolt when I command."

W. Ellin, "I go but I will return."
And he hasn't gone yet.

The value of Connellsville realty is still climbing.

Uniontown capital is being invested in Connellsville, indicating that the business men of the county capital have a better appreciation of our commercial possibilities than some of the editors pretend to have.

Swat the fly and kill the bolter.

Colorado is the Pennsylvania of the West.

Cumberland is the Hymenical Terminus of many lovely Connellsville couples, but it can never be a voluntary Home Terminal for Connellsville citizens.

Known reports a bumper crop.
Kingsbury continues to be all right.

It looks as if the Democratic National Convention was getting ready to override Bryan's vote of Parker.

T. Roosevelt has a Steam Roller, too.
Ask Governor Hudley.

The West Penn interests are covering all the electrical opportunities in Butler county.

It is hard to understand what Harry Thaw's past history and his wife's relationship with other people have to do
with his present mental condition.

The weather man has been promising us fair weather for the past three days. The weather is as uncertain as the Roosevelt bolt.

Roosevelt is no longer a novelty in Chicago. He was too strenuous to wear well. He lost his gloss and glamor in the sweat and strife of conflict. Perhaps it would have been better had he stayed at Oyster Bay with the oysters.

California is afflicted with the
too-much Johnson.

Boss Ellin cannot carry all the Pennsylvania delegates with him.
Some of them have political ambitions.
Others are Republicans.

It is proper for Ellin to follow the Roosevelt fortunes. Roosevelt made
him and Roosevelt will unmake him.

To Bonn Underwood at Baltimore.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—
During the next twenty-four hours
our special train will pull out of Birmingham filled to capacity with
friends and supporters of Oscar W.
Underwood, who are going to Baltimore to help him. The Alabama congressman for the Democratic presidential nomination.

THE DAILY COURIER, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

WAITING FOR HIS PREYBACK HOME IN JUNE

By Francis of Yukon.

Every person likes to get back home in June especially if June is knee-deep with strawberries and early oakleaf cherries. A fellow likes to get back home where forty years ago he rode on the handle kitchen door in the road in the town and the old homestead fond memory. When the light of other days around him, and when he has the same old boy coming home from the one blue circuit which was at town, and he thinks he sees his mother standing in the door with that look of half joy and half anxious fearing that her boy had got hurt, and the other folks too, just hollering around, you think they are living yet, way out in the hills towards Somerset.

There is no place like the old home in June, though humble it be, even after the dash and flame of pleasures and palaces have made a fellow about three-fourths of a blained fool and softened his respect for the place and people where he was born.

It's mighty easy to forget the fresh and foam of society functions, the hard-hearted formalities of city church worship conducted by several pillars who would die if they had to play a second fiddle, the duplicity of a tribe of jerkyl tricksters, when a fellow sees the blackberry vines creeping over in the rocky woodland and the fresh buttermilk at the old springy house, where there was never a cent of water rent paid.

It is a sublime thought to think how a fellow was once a barefoot boy with his upturned pincushions, with sunshine on his face and the strawberry berries all his own. Then there was the orchard with its one tree of early democratic apples which nature seems to have grown to encourage the doctor; and the old swimming hole fashioned for the barefoot boy; and the flock of sheep in the pasture field led by the chap with horns who butted the boys off the map with electric swelling machine action, and last but not least, the rest of June variety rapid-fire hornets hanging in the shade of an old apple tree.

But getting back home in June with the memory of boyhood all bright and the folks all departed is as bad as a banquet hall deserted.

Classification Advertisements
They cost only one cent a word, and bring results.

It is hard to understand what Harry Thaw's past history and his wife's relationship with other people have to do
with his present mental condition.

The weather man has been promising us fair weather for the past three days. The weather is as uncertain as the Roosevelt bolt.

Roosevelt is no longer a novelty in Chicago. He was too strenuous to wear
well. He lost his gloss and glamor in the sweat and strife of conflict. Perhaps it would have been better had he
stayed at Oyster Bay with the oysters.

California is afflicted with the
too-much Johnson.

Boss Ellin cannot carry all the
Pennsylvania delegates with him.
Some of them have political ambitions.
Others are Republicans.

It is proper for Ellin to follow the Roosevelt fortunes. Roosevelt made
him and Roosevelt will unmake him.

To Bonn Underwood at Baltimore.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—
During the next twenty-four hours
our special train will pull out of Birmingham filled to capacity with
friends and supporters of Oscar W.
Underwood, who are going to Baltimore to help him. The Alabama congressman for the Democratic presidential
nomination.

It is proper for Ellin to follow the Roosevelt fortunes. Roosevelt made
him and Roosevelt will unmake him.

To Bonn Underwood at Baltimore.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—
During the next twenty-four hours
our special train will pull out of Birmingham filled to capacity with
friends and supporters of Oscar W.
Underwood, who are going to Baltimore to help him. The Alabama congressman for the Democratic presidential
nomination.

It is proper for Ellin to follow the Roosevelt fortunes. Roosevelt made
him and Roosevelt will unmake him.

To Bonn Underwood at Baltimore.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—
During the next twenty-four hours
our special train will pull out of Birmingham filled to capacity with
friends and supporters of Oscar W.
Underwood, who are going to Baltimore to help him. The Alabama congressman for the Democratic presidential
nomination.

It is proper for Ellin to follow the Roosevelt fortunes. Roosevelt made
him and Roosevelt will unmake him.

To Bonn Underwood at Baltimore.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—
During the next twenty-four hours
our special train will pull out of Birmingham filled to capacity with
friends and supporters of Oscar W.
Underwood, who are going to Baltimore to help him. The Alabama congressman for the Democratic presidential
nomination.

It is proper for Ellin to follow the Roosevelt fortunes. Roosevelt made
him and Roosevelt will unmake him.

To Bonn Underwood at Baltimore.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—
During the next twenty-four hours
our special train will pull out of Birmingham filled to capacity with
friends and supporters of Oscar W.
Underwood, who are going to Baltimore to help him. The Alabama congressman for the Democratic presidential
nomination.

It is proper for Ellin to follow the Roosevelt fortunes. Roosevelt made
him and Roosevelt will unmake him.

To Bonn Underwood at Baltimore.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—
During the next twenty-four hours
our special train will pull out of Birmingham filled to capacity with
friends and supporters of Oscar W.
Underwood, who are going to Baltimore to help him. The Alabama congressman for the Democratic presidential
nomination.

It is proper for Ellin to follow the Roosevelt fortunes. Roosevelt made
him and Roosevelt will unmake him.

To Bonn Underwood at Baltimore.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—
During the next twenty-four hours
our special train will pull out of Birmingham filled to capacity with
friends and supporters of Oscar W.
Underwood, who are going to Baltimore to help him. The Alabama congressman for the Democratic presidential
nomination.

It is proper for Ellin to follow the Roosevelt fortunes. Roosevelt made
him and Roosevelt will unmake him.

To Bonn Underwood at Baltimore.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—
During the next twenty-four hours
our special train will pull out

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY IN THE BUSY MILL TOWN

Ministers Prepare to Trade Pulpits, Also Prepare for Outing.

DOCTORS TO DO THE HAULING

When Bon Sayers and Body Healers Go On Their United Plenies to Liguster—Another Garage Is Increasing Its Capacity—Other Newsy Notes.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTTDALE, June 22.—The initial union meetings, with the pastors of the churches exchanging pulpits, as arranged for by the Scottsdale Ministerial association several weeks ago, are scheduled for tomorrow evening. It was planned at that time that the churches should not begin with the union meetings in Loucks park as had been the custom in previous years, but should bring out the idea of union, by having the pastors all pulpits strange to them, but only in a sense, as nearly every minister in town has at one time or other been in pulpit of Scottsdale other than the church of which he is pastor. Doubtless there is no town in Westmoreland or Fayette county where this united spirit works so largely as in Scottsdale.

The ministers and the doctors are beginning to talk of the arrangements for the annual outing that the soul physicians and the bodily ones have been accustomed to joining in for the last few years. Likewise was the place chosen for this year's outing and the date July 1. Automobiles are to be furnished, and this looks as if the physicians will have this part of the program, for almost all of them have gas wagons. The 18 preachers in the association do not have the ownership of one of the devil wagons, so that the doctors are called to have their brethren. They will all get practice for a picnic next Thursday when the town goes to Oakford park.

MORNING RAIN.
Rain storms, with very exuberant electrical effects, were staged over this community yesterday, and caused some ominous signs on the part of some of the farmers, who seem to think that rain has come in sufficient quantities this season so far. They would like a little warmth and dry weather, although they admit that the cool weather is probably the best thing for the crop of politicians being harvested and moved away about his time in Chillicothe.

CHANGE IN PROGRAM.
Owing to a change in assignments, Rev. George K. Bernhard, formerly secretary of the Scottsdale Y. M. C. A. and now in ministerial work at Connellsville, Pa., will not preach at the Christian church tomorrow as at first announced.

K. O. C. WINS.
The Knights of Columbus team defeated the Tyrone club on the Car Show grounds at Everett on Thursday evening, by a score of 7 to 2. Tyrone club had as its battery Ryan and Clark, while O'Hara and Owen were for the K. O. C.

WAS BRIDESMAID.
Miss Grace Loucks of Alverton was bridesmaid at the wedding of Blanche Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Henry of Jeannette, to Rev. John W. Springer, pastor of the tenth United Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, Wednesday, at the bride's home.

OUTLOOK GOOD.
The outlook for a large attendance at the Lawrenceville-Scottsdale baseball game this afternoon at Ellsworth park is good. Much interest is being evinced in the game heretofore this season.

A NEW BUILDING.
The Central Garage on Stone street, is being greatly enlarged by a new building, which is nearing completion. Scottdale is motor busy for there are three large garages here and a great many cars. The motor cycle is growing in popularity, too; several of them being in use, and bicycles are the most plentiful for several years.

ENTERTAINED.

There were about 30 of the officers and teachers of the First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Strickler, on Mulberry street, Thursday evening. Dr. Strickler is the superintendent of the Sunday school.

Mt. Pleasant.

MT. PLEASANT, June 22.—The ninth annual commencement of St. Joseph's school was held in St. Joseph's auditorium last evening. Medals for Christian Doctrine went to Miss Marie Jackson and Miss Anna Hause. The highest average for No. 8 was Pauline Arkwright; No. 7, Lawrence Rindlinger; No. 6, Anna Hause; No. 5, Mary McKenna; No. 4, George McIlvane; No. 3, Paul Sheeler; No. 2, John Murphy; No. 1, John Hullen.

C. L. Kuhn, Sr., received word yesterday that following the graduation of his son Charles, Jr., from Pittsburgh College of Pharmacy on Wednesday that Charles, Jr., and Myrtle A. McIntyre of Greensburg were married in Pittsburgh and are at Bradfield waiting for parental forgiveness.

The frenetic held their regular meeting last evening. Besides the regular routine of business all bills were paid.

The Merchants' Association held their regular meeting in the Municipal building last evening. Only routine business was transacted.

Friends of Moody De Vaux, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Memorial hospital will rejoice to learn that at a late hour last night he was in a serious condition.

Frank E. Smith of Erwin was a caller in town yesterday.

Mrs. H. J. Jordan and daughter, Miss Gertrude, were shopping in Pittsburgh yesterday.

Miss Nell Kearns of McMinnville was shopping in town yesterday.

Have You Anything For Sale?

If so advertise it in our classified column. Cost—one cent a word.

SERVICES AT THE CHURCHES.

GELMAN-LUTHERAN ST. JOHN'S church on Canfield avenue and East South street, George Diez, pastor. Services at 10:30 A. M. Subject of sermon taken from St. Luke XVI. 19-23: "The Parable of the Rich Man and the Poor Lazarus." Sunday School at 9 o'clock. All are cordially invited. Confirmation class on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. German School on Wednesday and Thursday mornings at 9 o'clock.

EVANGELICAL CHURCH, SOUTH Connellsville, R. C. Miller, pastor. Services 10:30 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. Rev. L. G. Humphrey, Superintendent of the Pittsburgh District of the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League, will speak at the morning service. The pastor will preach at the evening service. Subject, "What Shall We Read?" Sunday School at 9:30 A. M. Young People's Alliance at 7 P. M. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

THE METHODIST PROTESTANT Church, Robert E. Currie, pastor. Sabbath School 9:30. Morning service 11. At the morning service the pulpit will be occupied by Rev. George Shaffer, D. D., who will speak in the interest of the Anti-Saloon League. Junior C. S. Society 6 P. M. Young People's Society 7 P. M. Leader, Mrs. A. L. Segman. Evening service 7:45. Subject, "Selling the Future for the Present."

THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN Church, Rev. D. Frank White, pastor. At 11 A. M. Rev. C. W. Carroll, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League will speak. Regular services 7:45 P. M. Sabbath School 10 A. M. Juniors 3 P. M. Y. P. C. U. 8:15 P. M. Prayer and piano service Wednesday 7:45 P. M. Everybody welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, J. L. Proudfit, pastor. Sabbath School at 9:30. Morning service at 11 o'clock, subject, "The Gospel Dispensation." In the evening the Rev. C. W. Carroll, D. D., State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League will speak. Christian Endeavor at 6:45. Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:15. Service preparatory to Communion Friday evening.

TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH, South Pittsburg and Green streets, Rev. C. E. Wagner, pastor. Sunday School at 9:15 A. M. when there should be a large attendance. Preaching at 11 A. M. by the pastor. At the evening service at 7:45 Rev. H. H. Santelle, a representative of the Anti-Saloon League will speak. Everybody invited. Prayer service on Wednesday evening at 7:45.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH, Rev. R. C. Wolf, pastor. At 11 A. M. Quarterly Communion. At 7:45 preaching and Communion. Sabbath School 9:30 A. M. Upward League devotional service 8:15 P. M. Love Feast and Testimony service Wednesday evening at 7:45. Junior League Friday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock.

UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH, Crawford Avenue, A. B. Wilson, pastor. Bible School 7:45. Preaching 11 A. M. Junior 2 P. M. Y. P. C. U. 8:15. Preaching 7:45 by Rev. George Shaffer, D. D. of Pittsburgh, representing the Anti-Saloon League. Prayer meeting Wednesday night at 7:45.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH, T. P. Atkinson, pastor, residence 505 Race street, 374 Tri-State phone. Bible School 9:30. 10:10 preaching and Communion; theme, "Hedge of Discipline." 6:15 Christian Endeavor. Subject, "Reading Is Worth While." 7:45 Rev. C. F. Swift, D. D. of Pittsburgh, will speak. In the interest of the Anti-Saloon League. Welcome to all.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, CORNER of South Pittsburg street and Baldwin avenue, Rev. Wilmer Nelson, pastor. Sunday School at 9:15 A. M. Public Worship at 11 o'clock. Address by Rev. C. F. Swift, D. D., of the Anti-Saloon League. Y. P. C. U. meeting at 8:45 P. M. Public worship at 7:45 P. M. Sermon by the pastor.

THE BRETHREN CHURCH, M. C. A. Auditorium, Sabbath School at 2:30 P. M. Worship at 4:30. Subject, "The Service of Child." Everybody welcome.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH, Divine services will be held in Trinity church at 11 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. conducted by the pastor, Rev. Elmer E. Rutgers. The Bible School will meet at 7:45 A. M. Strangers are always welcome.

Alexander Johnson returned to his home at Unionton Friday after a short visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Cunningham.

Daniel Boat of Hyndman and May Rafferty of this place, spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morrison and family on Susan Lane.

Mrs. Grant Sybert and two children, who have been visiting with friends here and relatives at Scottdale and Uniontown for the past several weeks, returned to their home at Unionton Friday.

David Ottlinger spent Thursday transacting business matters in Pittsburgh.

Alexander Johnson returned to his home at Unionton Friday after a short visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Cunningham.

Daniel Boat of Hyndman and May Rafferty of this place, spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morrison and family on Susan Lane.

Mrs. Grant Sybert and two children, who have been visiting with friends here and relatives at Scottdale and Uniontown for the past several weeks, returned to their home at Unionton Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morrison are the proud owners of four young turkeys hatched the first of this week.

Louis Morrison of Sugar Land, was looking after business matters in town yesterday.

Frank Rafferty of Commercial street, got a fine piano and player in his home yesterday.

A Good Investment.

There is no better investment than a fifty cent piece in a bottle of Metal White Liniment. Muscular and rheumatic pains, swellings, lameness and soreness of the muscles are promptly relieved. Merited White Liniment is especially recommended as a general pain killer of unusual strength. This product is different from anything you have ever used. It contains no alcohol, morphine, opium, or any other narcotic whatever. It soothes and quietes the aching nerves, and all the weak and sore organs, and gives the much desired healthful stimulation, without any objectionable ingredients. It is a medical product of the highest class.

All druggists now sell Wade's Golden Nervine at $1. If you will not get me you promptly, I will mail to you any quantity you desire, by the Gold Medallion Co., St. Louis, Mo.

TESTIMONY OF FIVE WOMEN

Proves That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Reliable.

Readville, Ore.—"I can truly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all women who are passing through the Change of Life, as it made me a well woman after suffering three years," —Mrs. MARY BOGART, Readville, Oregon.

New Orleans, La.—"When passing through the Change of Life I was troubled with hot flashes, weak and dizzy spells and backache. I was not fit for anything until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which proved worth its weight in gold to me." —Mrs. CASTON BLONDEAU, 1541 Polk Avenue, New Orleans.

Mishawaka, Ind.—"Women passing through the Change of Life can take nothing better than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am recommending it to my friends because of what it has done for me." —Mrs. EMMA BAILEY, 523 Marion Street, Mishawaka, Ind.

Alton Station, Ky.—"For months I suffered from troubles in consequence of my age and thought I could not live. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and I want other suffering women to know about it." —Mrs. F. M. THORN, Deisen, No. Dak.

Deisen, No. Dak.—"I was passing through Change of Life and felt very bad. I could not sleep and was very nervous. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health and I would be without it." —Mrs. F. M. THORN, Deisen, No. Dak.

AT THIS MOMENT.

Mrs. Russell Zerfoss of No. 221 Trevor street won the tea set given away at the Folson theater this week. Next week the set will be given away on Thursday night owing to the fact that on Friday the theater has been engaged.

Next week the school pictures will be the feature. These are the most successful moving pictures that have been taken of local subjects. Those have been the pictures of a primitive view depicting they are as good as the best.

These are in competition between three little pictures and the first one taken of the opening film game, "H. H. Bailey's How to Get an Interesting Entertainment with two sets of mice and such interests will be manifested in them. Pictures every school child in Connellsville is shown in the pictures, together with other interesting views.

AT THE OLYMPIC.

The Olympic theater presented an exceptionally good bill last evening.

"A Little Love" was one of the features. "H. H. Bailey's How to Get an Interesting Entertainment with two sets of mice and such interests will be manifested in them. Pictures every school child in Connellsville is shown in the pictures, together with other interesting views.

BRINKERTON GOING SOMEWHERE.

Since May 28th has won nine games and lost only one. The games are as follows:

May 15, Brinkerton 8; Towner 3. May 26, Brinkerton 12; Union 5. May 27, Brinkerton 12; Mayfield 4. June 7, Brinkerton 11; Towner 7. June 8, Brinkerton 12; Towner 4. June 11, Brinkerton 12; Ridney 2. June 12, Brinkerton 13; Union 5. June 13, Brinkerton 3; Towner 10. June 14, Brinkerton 24; Towner 6. June 15, Brinkerton 24; Ridney 2.

COAT COLLAR WHITE WITH DANDRUFF.

Scalp Badly Affected, Itched Terribly, Hair Fell Out. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, Now Has Thick Growth of Hair and Is Never Troubled with Any Dandruff or Itching of Scalp.

Have You Anything For Sale?

If so advertise it in our classified column. Cost—one cent a word.

Try This For Your Nerves

Thousands of weak, nervous, run-down men and women have found Wade's Golden Nervine to be the debility, rheumatism, weak heart, indigestion, lack of energy and vitality, and all run-down conditions of the system due to improved and added strength. This product is different from anything you have ever used. It contains no alcohol, morphine, opium, or any other narcotic whatever.

It soothes and quietes the aching nerves, and all the weak and sore organs, and gives the much desired healthful stimulation, without any objectionable ingredients. It is a medical product of the highest class.

All druggists now sell Wade's Golden Nervine at $1. If you will not get me you promptly, I will mail to you any quantity you desire, by the Gold Medallion Co., St. Louis, Mo.

To think that only three takes of Cuticura Soap and one and one-half boxes of Cuticura Ointment in my hair and scalp trouble me, and I feel quite contented. I have now got a thick growth of hair and am never troubled with any dandruff or itching of scalp. There is no question but that the Cuticura Remedies are the best.

I frequently recommend them to my friends and relatives. They are good.

—Signed, John F. Williams, 207 Norfolk Street, Dorchester, Boston, Mass., July 10, 1910.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 9B, Boston, for a liberal sample.

Classified Advertisements

They cost only one cent a word, and bring results.

CLOTHING AND FURNISHINGS

MEN'S STRAW HATS

Soft brims, stiff brims, split braids, Milan, Sennet, from $1.00, $1.50 to $3.00.

MEN'S SUMMER WASH TIES

Cool and attractive looking four-in-hands, 25c.

SOFT SHIRTS

with separate collar to match or collar attached, plain shades and neat stripes 50c to $2.00.

MEN'S AND BOYS' ATHLETIC UNION SUITS

Cool, sleeveless and knee-length.

UNION SUITS

made of good Nainsook with elastic webbing at back, which adds to their comfort. Men's $1.00 and $1.50; Boys at 50c.

MEN'S BELTS

from 25c to 75c, to look smart with your new Summer suit.

MEN'S OUTING TROUSERS

Just in from the leading makers. Made in Worsted, Flannels, Homespun and Tweeds and striped effects. Made hip-fitting style, peg-top, cuff bottoms and side buckles, $2.50 to $5.00.

BOYS' SUITS

WITH THE DEMOCRATS IN BALTIMORE

Photograph of Underwood © Harris & Ewing; of Dubois © Clinedinst; other photographs copyright by American Press Association.

Candidates and Other Prominent Democrats In Baltimore

Exterior and interior of Fifth regiment armory, Baltimore, scene of Democratic national convention.

By CHARLES N. LURIE.
FOR more than the Republicans convention at Chicago the Democratic assemblage at Baltimore will be a gathering of the clans. With voices and musical instruments the adherents of "favorite sons" in every section of the States will sing the praises of their respective candidates. There has been no such sharp division between two leading aspirants as there has been in the Republican gathering, with two or at most three other men mentioned for the top of the ticket.

Democrats have been called upon to divide their admiration among several men, of varying degrees of strength, of course, but all possessing the quality of possibility. To the mind of the unbiased spectator, if such there be, the race for the Democratic nomination, at any rate up to within a few days of the assembling of the delegates, has been one in which one of several contestants has the chance.

Let us take up the claims of these men. To avoid giving offense to any adherent of any one of them we will take them in alphabetical order. No man or his follower can object to the precedence granted by the fact that one's name begins with B rather than with W. So we'll start with Governor Elsworth B. Baldwin of Connecticut, a man of learning and experience whose claims to the Democratic nomination, it was reported, would be presented by State Senator Archibald McNeil of Bridgeport, Conn., twenty-seven years old and probably the youngest man ever named as likely to set forth the name of an aspirant for the presidency. Whether he is luminous or otherwise, Governor Baldwin is known as a man of light and leading in the law. Until his elevation to the executive chair of Connecticut in 1910 he was chief justice of the state supreme court of errors. He is the oldest of the men mentioned prominently. Governor Baldwin was born in 1840.

The turn of the alphabetical wheel brings us around now to William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska. Nothing need be said here of Mr. Bryan's record, brought out in sharp distinctness in his three former candidacies. In his three former candidacies he will remain to the end of the chapter. Speaker Clark's activities have been almost entirely legislative, and he ranks as one of the best parliamentarians and legislators of the time. He is a blunt, hearty Missourian, possessing the confidence of the majority members of the present house of representatives, which is controlled by his party. His campaign has been managed by former Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho. Among Speaker Clark's most earnest support has been given by Governor Harmon of Ohio.

G. stands for Gaynor, William J. by name, mayor of New York and a man of considerable influence. Outside of the state few knew of the years spent by Gaynor on the supreme court bench of his state. He made a reputation in his early manhood for fighting graft and corruption. Now he stands out in New York and elsewhere as the occupant of the mayor's chair of the country's biggest city. He quotes Epictetus, and the country smiles, and he denounces evil conditions in city life and the country. Hates with attention. To little children holding robes for some of the grimous like which oppose the president. Until a short time before the opening of the convention he had not said that he would decline the nomination this year, but he had done nothing to further the desires of his friends and had, in fact, withdrawn his name in several places in which he had been mentioned. But he was and is a power in the party on which he has made so great an impress.

John Burke, governor of North Dakota, is next in order. His principal claims to recognition are a good record in the mind of his followers, of course, as governor of North Dakota and an indentation as a "favorite son" of his state. But few before the convention days believed that he had a chance for the first place on the ticket.

The letter C now comes near, and with it comes Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives and a leading candidate for the Democratic nomination ever since talk began of 1912. He has been gathering delegates for months. Christened James Beauchamp Clark, he soon dropped the James and the first syllable of the Beauchamp, and Champ Clark he will remain to the end of the chapter. Speaker Clark's activities have been almost entirely legislative, and he ranks as one of the best parliamentarians and legislators of the time. He is a blunt, hearty Missourian, possessing the confidence of the majority members of the present house of representatives, which is controlled by his party. His campaign has been managed by former Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho. Among Speaker Clark's most earnest support has been given by Governor Harmon of Ohio.

Harmen of Ohio has loomed up several times as a presidential possibility, especially this year, in spite of the open antagonism of William Jennings Bryan and others. To his credit stand two victories in gubernatorial elections of Ohio, the "mother of Republican presidents." He is a lawyer of wide reading and sound thought as an attorney general in the last Cleveland cabinet. His opponents allege that his corporation affiliations and his age, sixty-six, should have barred him from consideration, but his friends counterbalance these accusations with his unquestioned personal honesty, his firmness and his capacity for work.

"The Scholar in Politics."

Governor Woodrow Wilson has been recently the leading example of "the scholar in politics"—very much in politics, in fact. Democratic leaders throughout the country have been desirous of hearing what the Democratic governor of New Jersey and former president of Princeton university has had to say on the questions of the time. He has obligingly responded by accepting as many of the invitations as he could. He is a lawyer, lecturer and historian and probably knows as much about politics from the theoretical viewpoint as any other man in America. In recent years he has also picked up a good deal of information about the practical side of the political game.

Two men remain, Underwood and Wilson. The former is the youngest of the nine who are under consideration. He was fifty years old on May 6. His talents have shone before the public as a legislator, for he has been a member of the house of representatives from the Ninth Alabama district for seventeen years. He is a quiet, silent worker, with a reputation for industry earned in committee service. His party members thought so well of him that when they came into control of the house of representatives they made him chairman of the most important committee, that on ways and means.

"The Scholar in Politics."

Governor Woodrow Wilson has been recently the leading example of "the scholar in politics"—very much in politics, in fact. Democratic leaders throughout the country have been desirous of hearing what the Democratic governor of New Jersey and former president of Princeton university has had to say on the questions of the time. He has obligingly responded by accepting as many of the invitations as he could. He is a lawyer, lecturer and historian and probably knows as much about politics from the theoretical viewpoint as any other man in America. In recent years he has also picked up a good deal of information about the practical side of the political game.

Representative Burleson of Texas is sponsor for one plan that has been proposed. If his views prevail there will be hereafter one delegate from each congressional district, but a district represented in the house of representatives by a Democrat will be entitled to an additional delegate. If a state is represented in the senate by two Democratic senators it shall have four delegates at large. The convention, if by one Republican and one Democrat, it shall have three at large, and if represented by two Republicans, only two delegates at large. The representation for a territory will be the same as for a state at large.

Somerset Court Records.

SOMERSET, June 22.—Clerk of Orphans' Court Bert F. Landis has recently issued marriage license to the following parties:

Harry Weaver and Mario Strasser, both of Rockwood; John Losofski and Sophia Urban, both of Jerome; Clarence Bender and Adeline Yoder, both of Elkville township; Theodore Straub and Bessie May Buehlman, both of Somerset; A. Brooks Horner of Mt. Pleasant, and Nina B. Kimmel of Jefferson township; William Henry Haines and Mary Ruth Penner, both of Hobart; John H. Jones of Seaman, and Annie M. Smeal of Hollsopple; Charles C. Pulte of Somerset, and Elizabeth Ashman of Stoneycreek township; James G. Davis and Ida Lee Hotchkiss, both of Elk Lick township; Walenay Kozel and Maryanna Plunkas, both of Boswell; Lewis J. Constance and Therza B. Hawke, both of Confluence; W. F. Conrad of Monaca, and Mary A. Yuhner of Windber; Harry E. Snyder of Somerset; and Besse Rooney of Frostburg, Md.; George Edward Snyder of Windber, and Anna Samuels of Sculpt Level.

Letters of administration have been issued to Michael M. Shantz, administrator of the estate of George Shantz, late of Somerset township. Bond $200.

The will of Frank Chabull, late of Somerset township, was recently probated. He left the sum of $25,000 to each of his daughters, Lorraine and Mrs. Elizabeth Kingensmith. His widow, Mary Chabull, is given the remainder of his estate unless she remarries, in such case she is to pay testator's son, Tony, the sum of $400. Should she not marry again Tony is to provide a home for her and at her death become the owner of the estate. If Tony fails to support his mother, testator gives his widow power to sell his property if necessary for her support. The will was dated February 23, 1911, and witnessed by Michael Zimmerman and Eddie E. Welmer. Mary Chabull is appointed executor.

The following deals in Somerset county real estate—county real estate have been consummated during the past week:

$3.50 Recipe For Weak Kidneys, Free.

BELLEVUE Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.

STOP PAIN IN THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS AND BACK.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say good bye forever to the sensitive, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the stitches and pain in the back; the growing incrustations, spots before the eyes, swelling of the spleen, swollen eyelids or ankles; loss of appetite; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and their dependency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to know the secret, just write me and I will write and let a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $5.00 just for writing this prescription. But I have it and will be glad to send it to you in full.

Why put it off? Start one now with the Title & Trust Company of Western Pennsylvania.

4% Interest Paid
On Savings Accounts

THE MOVING MAN

Household goods and pianos moved and piano hoisting a specialty. General hauling, biggest wagons and most careful men in town.

Prices Reasonable.

J. N. TRUMP

Tel-State Phone 112,
Office 104 Peach St.
CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

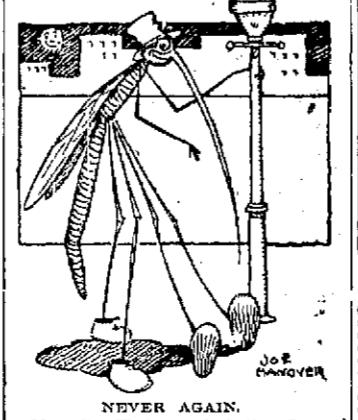

It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

OLYMPIC

continues

1 P. M. to 11 P. M.
The Biggest 5-Cent Show in Connellsville

THREE REELS
Pictures Changed Every Day.
ADMISSION 5¢

NEVER AGAIN.
Mosquito—Help me, Iash time I ever bite 'toxicated man against!

J. B. KURTZ,
NOTARY PUBLIC
AND REAL ESTATE,
No. 3 South Meadow Lane,
Connellsville, Pa.

Not a Luxury

A Bank Account should not be regarded as a luxury. It is a necessity. Everyone who desires to prosper should have one.

Why put it off? Start one now with the Title & Trust Company of Western Pennsylvania.

4% Interest Paid

On Savings Accounts

Title & Trust Company

of Western Pennsylvania
Connellsville, Pa.

The Oldest Savings Bank
In Fayette County.

Capital and Surplus
$425,000.00

$100,000 to Loan.

In amounts from $1,000 and up on first mortgage on good city property for five, ten, fifteen or twenty years. We pay this back monthly or annually, and if you move in the meantime, the mortgage will be canceled. Costs less than six per cent a year.

J. Donald Porter

General Insurance
Second National Bank Building,
Connellsville, Pa.

Remember

That every added subscriber helps to make this paper better for everybody

Set Aside a Little Out of Every Pay for Your Savings Account.

NR

You'll find you'll get along alright on the balance.

And what you save will build up a nice fund for the protection of your family and yourself.

This strong bank, with resources of over $2,232,000, is an absolutely safe place for your savings.

4% Interest Paid

On Savings Accounts

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

"The Bank That Does Things for You"

129 WEST MAIN STREET, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

Largest and most complete Foreign and Steamship Department in the County.

I Wish I Had a Bank Account!

How often you have wished but failed to say

"I will."

Stop wishing. Start saving—today, in this bank.

We pay 4 per cent interest on Savings Accounts.

Compounded every six months.

Second National Bank

Connellsville, Pa.

The Eight Story Fire Proof Building.

JOB PRINTING OF ALL KINDS
DONE AT THE COURIER OFFICE.

The LADY OF THE MOUNT

by FREDERIC S. ISNAM
AUTHOR OF "THE STROLLERS" "UNDER THE ROSE," ETC.
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS

COPYRIGHT 1912 BY THE WORD-PUBLISHING CO.

"Who?" The man began to recover from his surprise. "That's not so easy to tell. But if you must know—well, there's Gabriel Gabrie, for one, a poet of the people. He might do it—although there's talk of cutting off his head."

"What for?"

"For knowing how to write."

The lad reached for his hat.

"Where are you going?"

"To the poet's."

"At this late hour? You are in a hurry!"

"If what you say is true, there's no time to lose."

"Well, if you find him writing verses about liberty and equality, don't interrupt him, or you'll lose your head."

But when the sound of the boy's footsteps had ceased, Sanchez's expression changed; more bent, more worn, he got up and walked slowly to and fro. "A fine 'Seigneur'!" The moldering walls seemed to echo the words. "A fine 'Seigneur'!" he muttered, and again sat brooding by the fire.

In the gathering dusk the lad strode briskly on. A squirrel barked to the right; he did not look around. A portuguese drummed to the left; unusually alert to wood sound or life, tonight he did not heed it. But, fairly out of the forest and making his way with the same air of resolution across the sands toward the lowland beyond, his attention, on a sudden, became forcibly diverted. He had but half completed the distance from the place where he had left the wood to the objective point in the curvature of the shore, when to the left through the gloom, a great vehicle, drawn by six horses, could be seen rapidly approaching. From the imposing equipage gleamed many lamps; the moon, which ere this had begun to assert its place in the heavens, made bright the shining harness and shone on the polished surface of the golden car. Wondering, the boy paused.

"What is that?"

The person addressed, a fisherman belated, bending to the burden on his shoulders, stopped, and, breathing hard, looked around and watched the approaching vehicle intently.

"The governor's carriage!" he said. "Haven't you ever heard of the governor's carriage?"

"No."

"That's because he hasn't used it lately; but in her ladyship's day—"

"Her ladyship?"

"The governor's lady—he bought it for her. But she soon got tired of it—or perhaps didn't like the way the people looked at her!" roughly. "Mon dieu! perhaps they did scowl a little—for it didn't please them, I can tell you—the sight of all that gold squandered from the taxes!"

"Where is he going now?"

"Nowhere himself—he never goes far from the Mount. But the lady Elise, his daughter—some one in the village was saying she was going to Paris—"

"Paris!" The lad repeated the word quickly. "What for?"

"What do all the great lords and nobles send their children there for? To get educated—married, and—to learn the tricks of the court! Bah!" With a coarse laugh the man turned; stooping beneath his load, he moved grumbly on.

The boy, however, did not stir; as in a dream he looked first at the Mount, a dark triangle against the sky, then at the carriage. Never the latter was, was about to dash by, when suddenly the driver, on his high seat, uttered an exclamation and at the same time tugged hard at the reins. The vehicle took a quick turn, lurched dangerously in its top-heavy pomp, and almost upsetting, came to a standstill nearly opposite the boy. "Carolean dog!" a shrill voice screamed from the inside. "What are you doing?"

"The lads, your Excellency!" The driver's voice was thick; as he spoke he swayed uncertainly.

"Ladies—quicksands!"

"There, your Excellency," indicating a gleaming place right in their path; a small bright spot that looked as if it might have been polished, while elsewhere on the surrounding sands tiny rippling parallel creases the eye with streaks of black and silver. "I saw it in time!"

"In time!" angrily. "Imbecile! Didn't you know it was there?"

"Of course, your Excellency! Only I had misjudged a little, and—" The man's manner showed he was frightened.

"Falsehoods! You have been drinking! Don't answer. You shall hear of this later. Drive around the spot."

"Yes, your Excellency," was the now sober and subdued answer.

Ere he obeyed, however, the carriage door, from which the governor had been leaning, swung open.

"Wait!" he called out impatiently, and tried to close it, but the catch—probably from long disuse—would not hold, and, before the liveried servant perched on the lofty carriage behind had fully perceived the fact and had recovered himself sufficiently to think of his duties, the boy on the beach had sprung forward.

"Stand it!" commanded an irate voice.

The lad complied, and as he did so, peered eagerly into the spacious depths of the vehicle.

"The boy with the fish!" exclaimed at the same time a girlish trill within.

"Eh?" my lord turned sharply. "An impudent lad who stopped the Lady Elise!" exclaimed the fair, more surely Beppe—on the front seat.

"Stopped the Lady Elise!" The governor repeated the words slowly; an ominous pause was followed by an abrupt movement on the part of the child.

"He did not stop me; it was I who nearly ran over him, and it was my fault. Beppe does not tell the truth. He's a wicked man!—and I'm glad I'm not going to see him any more!"

"And the boy wasn't impudent; at least until Beppe offered to strike him, and then, Beppe didn't—Beppe," deviously, "was afraid!"

"My lady," Beppe's voice was soft and unctuous, "construes forbearance for fear."

Partly blinded by the lampe, the lad obeyed; was cognizant of a piercing scrutiny; two hard, steady eyes that seemed to read his humblest thoughts; a face, indistinguishable but compelling; beyond, something white—a girl's dress—that moved and fluttered!

"Who is he?" "A poor boy who lives in the woods, papa!"

But Beppe leaned forward and whispered, his words too low for the lad to catch. Whatever his information, the governor started; the questioning glance on an instant brightened, and his head was thrust forward close to the boy's. A chill seemed to pass over the lad, yet he did not quail.

"Good-by, boy!" said the child, and, leaning from the window, smiled down at him.

He tried to answer, when a hand pulled him in somewhat overhastily. "Drive on!" Again the shrill tones cut the air. "Drive on, I tell you! Diable! What are you standing here for?"

A whip lashed the air and the horses leaped forward. The back wheel of the vehicle almost struck the lad, but, motionless, he continued staring after it. Farther, it drew away, and, as he remained thus he discerned, or fancied he discerned, a girl's face at the back—a ribbon that waved for moment in the moonlight, and then was gone.

Eight years elapsed before next he saw her.

CHAPTER IV.

A Dance on the Beach.

The great vernal equinox of April 17th, was the cause of certain unusual movements of the tide, which made old mariners and coast-dwellers shake their heads and gaze seaward, out of all reckoning. At times, after a tempest, on this strange coast, the waters would rise in a manner and at an hour out of the ordinary, and then among the dwellers on the shore, there were those who prognosticated dire unhappiness, telling how the sea had once devoured two villages overnight, and how, beneath the sands, were bones intact, with the people yet in their beds.

Concerned with a disordered social system and men in and out of dungeons, the governor had little time, and less inclination to note the caprices of the tide on the vagaries of the strand. The people! The monaques and mercurial ebb and flow of their moods! The maintenance of autocratic power on the land, and, a more difficult task, on the sea—these words of surprise and incredulity, while he continued to search eagerly—but now in vain. The object of his startled attention, illuminated, for an instant, on the outskirts of the throng, by the glare of a torch, was no more to be described. As questioning the reality of a fleeting impression, his gaze fixed itself again near the edge of flickering lights; shifted uncertainly to the pavilion where servants from the Mount hurried to and fro; then back to the people around him. His jaw which had dropped grew suddenly firm.

A moment he stammered a few words of surprise and incredulity, while he continued to search eagerly—but now in vain. The object of his startled attention, illuminated, for an instant, on the outskirts of the throng, by the glare of a torch, was no more to be described. As questioning the reality of a fleeting impression, his gaze fixed itself again near the edge of flickering lights; shifted uncertainly to the pavilion where servants from the Mount hurried to and fro; then back to the people around him. His jaw which had dropped grew suddenly firm.

"Clear a space for the dance!" he called out in tones impatient, excited.

"It's her ladyship's command—so see you step blithely! And you fellows there, with the tambourine and hautboys, come forward!"

(To be continued.)

The Lad Complied.

were matters of greater import than the phenomena of nature whose purpose man is powerless to shape or curb. My lady, his daughter, however, who had just returned from seven years' schoolrooming at a convent, and one year at court where the queen, Marie Antoinette, set the fashion of gaiety, found in the conduct of their great neighbor, the ocean, a source of both entertainment and instruction for her guests, a merry company transported from Versailles.

"Whom?" asked her companion in the dance—a fair, handsome nobleman of slim figure and elegant bearing.

"That's just what I can't tell you," she answered, sweeping a courtesy that fitted the rhythm of the music. "Only a face I should remember!"

"Should?" The maid's look followed hers.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

other tide—faster than a horse can gallop! Where else could you witness the like?"

"Nowhere. And when it goes out—"

"It goes out so far, you can no longer see it; only a vast beach that reaches to the horizon, and—"

"Must be very dangerous!"

"Then I would remember him!" she laughed as the dance came to an end.

Now in a tented pavilion, servants, richly garbed in festal costume, passed among the guests, circulating trays, bright with golden dishes and goblets, stamped with the ancient insignia of the Mount, and once the property of the affluent monks, early rulers of the place. Other attendants followed, bearing light delicacies, confections and marvelous frosted towers and structures from the castle kitchen.

Nothing is more disagreeable than cocaine, or other skin diseases. It is also dangerous unless speedily checked.

Mary Eaton Remond will afford instant relief and permanent results. We have never seen a remedy that compares with it. Buckley's Pharmacy, 120 South Pittsburg street,

Michigan "U" 75 Years Old Today.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 22.—Ann Arbor is a mass of noise and bustle, the colors of the University of Michigan, which great institution of learning is to begin tomorrow a celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of its founding.

Thousands of visitors, including many men of national reputation, are here to take part in the celebration, which will be conducted in conjunction with the regular exercises of commencement week.

Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents 284.81

Lawful Money Reserve in Bank, via 11,186.14

Specie 2.70

Legal-tender notes 14,493.20

Total 38,570.92

LIAABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in $50,000.00

Surplus fund 35,000.00

Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid 2,393.00

National Bank notes outstanding 12,920.00

Individual deposits subject to check 48,500.00

Time certificates of deposit 11,920.00

Certified checks 114.15

Total 88,827.34

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in $100,000.00

Surplus fund 125,000.00

Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid 14,255.27

National Bank notes outstanding 68,800.00

Dividends unpaid 20.00

Individual deposits subject to check 106,794.01

Demand certificates of deposit 18,002.14

Certified checks 220.07

Cashier's checks outstanding 8,184.83 400,262.27

Total $528,277.34

LIABILITIES.

State of Pennsylvania, County of Fayette, etc.

J. C. LONG, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JAS. C. LONG, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd day of June, 1912.

J. R. BAILEY, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:

CHARLES DETWELLER,

R. S. MATTHEWS,

R. M. KERR.

Directors.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE YOUGH NATIONAL BANK, at Connellsville, in the State of Pennsylvania, at the close of business, June 14, 1912.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts $10,511,239.73

Overdrafts, secured and unsecured 1,717.83

U. S. Bonds to secure circulation 75,000.00

Premiums on U. S. bonds 1,000.00

Bonds, securities, etc. 257,922.83

Banking house, furniture, and fixtures 206,769.89

Other real estate owned 14,873.47

Due from National Banks (not reserve agents) 16,464.57

Due from State and private banks 1,267.32

Overdrafts, secured and unsecured 2,670.32

U. S. Bonds to secure circulation 75,000.00

Checks and other cash items 25,368.08

Bonds, securities, etc. 42,357.39

Exchanges for clearing house, and fixtures 1,321.30

Notes of other National Banks 24,500.00

Lawful Money Reserve in Bank, via 401.00

Food values that loom up biggest under the searchlight of comparison with other stores' qualities and prices.

Wright-Metzler's Underprice Pure Food Grocery.

Hot weather cabbages at prices you'll relish. Other items of standard quality—each a cog that helps lighten women's work—at attractive prices. It's just safe to 'phone your order, send a child or buy with your eyes shut, as for the most critical buyer to come to the store.

Foods Best for Hot Weather

Many physicians advise less fresh meat during summer. The high cost of it, however, goes farther than any one's advise towards cutting down its use. You can eat foods less expensive, just as tasty and in many instances as highly nutritious. Here are some of them.

Corn beef, 18c and 28c per can.
Venison Sausage, 10c a can, 3 cans for 25c.
Potted ham 10c a can, 3 cans for 25c.
Potted meats—ham or tongue flavor, 5c per can.
Pimento Red Pepper, 10c a can, For sandwiches, etc.
3 small or 2 medium size cans Crubro Baked Beans 25c.
Clipper Herbs—a special lot, extra fine, 10c a can, 2c.
Apple butter Jr. Mason fruit jars, 16c each.
Nut stuffed dates—finest we've yet had, 20c a jar.
Venison sausages, 10c a can, 3 cans for 25c.
Ham—large quantity.
Marm cheese, Roquefort cheese, Delicatessen, Pimento and Plum olive cheese.
a box of Buttermilk, 25c.
3 cans Sweet Corn, 25c.
3 cans Sauer Kraut, 25c.
3 cans Pie Pumpkin, 25c.
2 cans Pink Salmon, 25c.
1 can fancy Sliced Peaches, 15c.
1 can Tidie Pears, 10c.
1 can Apples to pie, 10c.
3 cans Pond Lilly Beets, 25c.
6 boxes Cleaners.....25c.

But, if you must have ham, you can get none better than ours at 16c. 8 to 16 pounds.

3 boxes Baker's Shredded Cocoa-nut	25c
Prepared Chocolate Icing for cakes	15c
4 lbs. box Washing Powder, containing Naphtha.....15c.	15c
6 lbs. Teak or Octagon, or 7 Lenzox Soap	25c.
6 boxes Cleaners.....25c.	25c.

Basement Specials!

Gas and Electric portable lamps, Half Price.

$12.00 Tricycles (first class-round).....$10.00
$8.50 Easy Goer Tricycles.....$5.00
$5.00 Smooth running tricycles.....$3.50
$5.00 Autos, painted tin beds.....$7.00

$7.50 Portable Merry-go-round.....$6.00
$7.50 Hobby Horses, several kinds.....$5.00
All Doll go-carts one fourth less.

20 TIMES HAVE DEMOCRATS MET TO NAME TICKET

The Party Has Had Interesting Career Since Birth in 1791.

FIRST CONVENTION IN 1832

Andrew Jackson First Standard Bearer and He Led the Infant Organization to Victory—Presidents Few Since the Close of the Civil War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—The convention which opens at Baltimore next Tuesday will be the twenty-fifth national assembly of the Democratic party, while the one now in session in Chicago is only the fifteenth Republican national gathering. But the Democratic party surpasses the Republican in age much more than this difference would indicate. Born in the bank controversy of 1791, christened by Jefferson, its founder, in 1792, and strengthened in its division among the people with Washington's neutrality proclamation at the beginning of the Anglo-French War in 1792 caused, the Democratic party passed its centennial mark more than a decade ago.

Put the history of the party's contentious dates back only to 1832, in which the national delegate convention method of nominating candidates for President and Vice-President was adopted. The first national Democratic convention was held on May 22, 1832, at Baltimore, and adopted two rules which have guided the actions of all subsequent conventions. One of these provided that the delegates, when so instructed should cast the votes of their states as a unit, and the other that no candidate should be nominated without a two-thirds majority. Andrew Jackson was nominated for President and Martin Van Buren for Vice-President. They were elected.

The second national Democratic convention met on May 25, 1836, also at Baltimore, and nominated Martin Van Buren for President and Richard M. Johnson for Vice-President. The ticket was successful in the subsequent election.

The third convention, held on May 18, 1840, at Baltimore, renominated Van Buren, but named no candidate for Vice-President, leaving that to the several States. It also put forward the first complete platform ever adopted by the party. Parts of this platform were incorporated into the declaration of every national Democratic convention prior to the Civil War, and its leading ideas have reappeared in many of the party platforms of the last 40 years.

In 1844 the national Democratic convention again assembled in Baltimore. Van Buren had a majority of the instructed delegates for his nomination. James K. Polk was a candidate for Vice-President. Unfortunately for Van Buren he was not on the popular side in regards to the burning question of the annexation of Texas, again the two-thirds rule was introduced and assured Van Buren's defeat. After a three days' struggle the nomination was given to Polk.

In the convention of 1848, also in Baltimore, took place the first of the "walk-outs" in Democratic national assemblies, the others being in 1860 and 1864. The party in New York was divided into two hostile factions at the national convention attempted to patch up a truce between them by admitting the delegations which each chose, allowing each to cast half the votes. The result was that the faction whose choice was defeated immediately withdrew from the convention. Lewis Cass of Michigan was named for President and William O. Butler of Kentucky for Vice-President. This ticket was defeated by Taylor and Fillmore, Whigs.

Mrs. Davis Denies That Her Demonstration for Roosevelt Was Started by Arrangement.

Franklin Pierce of New Hampshire, "dark horse" whose name had not been publicly mentioned as a candidate, won the presidential nomination at the national Democratic convention held in Baltimore in 1852. William H. King of Alabama was nominated for Vice-President, but did not live to fill the office.

The second national Democratic convention met on May 25, 1856, also at Baltimore, and nominated Martin Van Buren for President and Richard M. Johnson for Vice-President. The ticket was successful in the subsequent election.

The convention which met at Cincinnati on June 2, 1860, lasted four days and resulted in the nomination of James Buchanan of Pennsylvania for President and John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky for Vice-President. The most fatal convention which was ever held in the United States was that which opened at Charleston, S. C., on April 22, 1860, which lasted ten days and took 57 unavailing ballots, and which split the party into a Northern and Southern section, each of which had a separate convention in another place and put up a ticket of its own. One faction named Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois and Horace V. Johnson of Georgia, while the other nominated John C. Breckinridge of Kentucky and Joseph Lane of Oregon. Both were defeated at the polls by Abraham Lincoln and Hannibal Hamlin, Republicans.

The main purpose for holding the Democratic national convention which met in Chicago on August 30, 1860, was to prevent the party organization from going wholly to pieces. The convention adopted a platform which declared the war a failure and nominated General George B. McClellan of New Jersey for President and George H. Pendleton of Ohio for Vice-President. This ticket was easily beaten by the Republican ticket of Grant and Colfax.

The convention of 1868, the only one ever held in New York, Horatio Seymour of New York was named for President and F. P. Blair of Missouri for Vice-President. This ticket was easily beaten by the Republican ticket of Grant and Colfax.

The 1872 convention of the Democrats was held at Baltimore. It accepted Horace Greeley, the nominee of the seceding element of the Republican party, and named B. Gratz Brown of Missouri for Vice-President, but the regular Republicans in that year repeated their victory of 1868.

In their convention of 1876, in St. Louis, the Democrats nominated their strongest and ablest man, Samuel J. Tilden of New York, with Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana for Vice-President.

They came within one vote in the electoral college of electing their ticket.

Since 1876 the national conventions and nominees of the Democratic party have been as follows:

1880, at Cincinnati, Gen. Winfield S. Hancock of Pennsylvania for President and William H. English of Indiana for Vice-President.

1884, at Chicago, Grover Cleveland of New York for President and Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana for Vice-President.

1888, at Chicago, Grover Cleveland of New York for President and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois for Vice-President.

1892, at Chicago, William J. Bryan of Nebraska for President and Arthur Sewall of Maine for Vice-President.

1900, at Kansas City, William J. Bryan of Nebraska for President and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois for Vice-President.

The main purpose for holding the Democratic national convention which met in Chicago on August 30, 1860, was to prevent the party organization from going wholly to pieces. The convention adopted a platform which declared the war a failure and nominated

General George B. McClellan of New Jersey for President and George H. Pendleton of Ohio for Vice-President.

1904, at St. Louis, Alton B. Parker of New York for President and Henry G. Davis of West Virginia for Vice-President.

1908, at Denver, William J. Bryan of Nebraska for President and John W. Kern of Indiana for Vice-President.

1912, at Chicago, Woodrow Wilson for President and Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana for Vice-President.

They came within one vote in the electoral college of electing their ticket.

Since 1876 the national conventions and nominees of the Democratic party have been as follows:

1880, at Cincinnati, Gen. Winfield S. Hancock of Pennsylvania for President and William H. English of Indiana for Vice-President.

1884, at Chicago, Grover Cleveland of New York for President and Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana for Vice-President.

1888, at Chicago, Grover Cleveland of New York for President and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois for Vice-President.

1892, at Chicago, William J. Bryan of Nebraska for President and Arthur Sewall of Maine for Vice-President.

1900, at Kansas City, William J. Bryan of Nebraska for President and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois for Vice-President.

The main purpose for holding the Democratic national convention which met in Chicago on August 30, 1860, was to prevent the party organization from going wholly to pieces. The convention adopted a platform which declared the war a failure and nominated

General George B. McClellan of New Jersey for President and George H. Pendleton of Ohio for Vice-President.

1904, at St. Louis, Alton B. Parker of New York for President and Henry G. Davis of West Virginia for Vice-President.

1908, at Denver, William J. Bryan of Nebraska for President and John W. Kern of Indiana for Vice-President.

1912, at Chicago, Woodrow Wilson for President and Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana for Vice-President.

They came within one vote in the electoral college of electing their ticket.

Since 1876 the national conventions and nominees of the Democratic party have been as follows:

1880, at Cincinnati, Gen. Winfield S. Hancock of Pennsylvania for President and William H. English of Indiana for Vice-President.

1884, at Chicago, Grover Cleveland of New York for President and Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana for Vice-President.

1888, at Chicago, Grover Cleveland of New York for President and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois for Vice-President.

1892, at Chicago, William J. Bryan of Nebraska for President and Arthur Sewall of Maine for Vice-President.

1900, at Kansas City, William J. Bryan of Nebraska for President and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois for Vice-President.

The main purpose for holding the Democratic national convention which met in Chicago on August 30, 1860, was to prevent the party organization from going wholly to pieces. The convention adopted a platform which declared the war a failure and nominated

WRIGHT-METZLER COMPANY.

A Boys' Hat Free with $5.00 Suits

With Suits at $5.00 and Over, Choice of Any $1.00 Hat.
With Suits Under $5.00 Values, Choice of Any 50c Cap.

One special lot of Boys' Suits at $2.65—worth to $6.00 is not included in this offer. Nor can we give a hat or cap with blue serge suits. Choose any fancy suit—the entire stock is open—and then pick the hat, straw or felt, or cap, that suits you.

Men's Suits to $28 for $16.75

Been revising the stock downward again and are now filled in with blue serges and fancy cloths for a Saturday of big business. Weather vagaries have had no retarding effect on garment selling here. There's a certain personality, an air of distinction, a beauty-appeal and a certain price attraction about this year's clothes that men can't get past.

The Line at $10.00 for Values to $18.00 is Strong

Here for Straw Hats and Panama Hats, $1.50 to $10.

Sale of Women's Cloth Suits Half Price; Waists, Dresses, Sacques, Linen Skirts, Etc., at Reduced Rates.

This Page is Your Guide Post to the Best Values in Connellsville.

Let this page guide you to the store of sure savings and permanent satisfaction. And the clothes themselves are guide posts. Immense variety guides you to just what you want in style and color. Summer 1912 newness is the guide to up-to-dateness. Weight of materials guides you to summer comfort. Feel of the materials is your guide to finest fabrics. Every stitch points of perfect making. The hidden work is an invisible guide to style permanency. All these are guide posts to quality. The prices are guide-posts to big money-savings. Nothing undone, nothing overdone to make this week your week for best value.

Cloth Suits, 1912 Models, Half Price

No white suits are included. All other suits—serges, whipcords, English Homespuns, novelty fabrics, in black, blue, light colors—solid, striped or mixed—are half price. Choice of plain tailored or any degree of trimmed styles. The lowest you'll pay is $8.25 for $16.50 values, and just half the marked price on any to $25 for a $50 suit and please note—not a suit on sale has been in the store before March 15, 1912. No other store in Connellsville sold every suit before their spring styles came in.

Summer Waists Some Specially Priced.

Bigger buying than ever before has brought bigger values and more kinds. Prove it for yourself—by your own eyes, hands and mind.

You'll find prettier styles and better waists here for less money than anywhere else.

Going away soon? Any kind of dress you require: So light, so cool, so becoming—and above all, their fittingness to meet the requirements of all occasions.

Bountiful variety—most winsome summer styles—and opportunity to save dollars on many kinds you can't get elsewhere.

Lingerie Dresses, $6.00 to $25.00.

The most graceful, most comprehensive display of summer daintiness for women and girls that we have ever shown. The styles are unique—all of a rare charm and youthful simplicity, the work of artistry well voiced in the adoption of figures.

Going away soon? Any kind of dress you require: So light, so cool, so becoming—and above all, their fittingness to meet the requirements of all occasions.

Bountiful variety—most winsome summer styles—and opportunity to save dollars on many kinds you can't get elsewhere.

Lingerie Dresses, $6.00 to $25.00.

The most graceful, most comprehensive display of summer daintiness for women and girls that we have ever shown. The styles are unique—all of a rare charm and youthful simplicity, the work of artistry well voiced in the adoption of figures.

Going away soon? Any kind of dress you require: So light, so cool, so becoming—and above all, their fittingness to meet the requirements of all occasions.

Bountiful variety—most winsome summer styles—and opportunity to save dollars on many kinds you can't get elsewhere.